Modified Sign Law Debated, Approved

Agitation over Yorba Linda's controversial sign code moved toward resolution of a sort Monday night as the city council adopted on first reading by a 4-0 vote an ordinance amending and generally strengthening the code.

Opposing sides were taken by the city Beautification Committee and the Chamber of Commerce, the one arguing in favor of the code, while the other maintained that conspicuous signs were necessary for business.

"The (present) ordinance is working," said Beautification Committee Chairman Lorraine Scheidt. "(It) hasn't had a fair trial as yet."

Arden H. Berg, a spokesman for the Sign Users' Council of California, warned on the other hand that decreasing the size of a business' sign could serve to decrease its profits.

In all, the amendments, as prepared by the planning commission at it's January 14 meeting and as approved by the city council, alter or add to the existing ordinance at about 16 different points. Of these modifications, 12 stiffen, clarify, or add language to the present code. Only five weaken or loosen existing requirements. (Total is greater than 16 since some changes both weaken and strengthen the code.)

Both the Chamber of Commerce and the Beautification Committee had presented proposals for changes in the code. Of the Chamber's 18 recommendations, nine were adopted wholly or in part. The committee fared about as well winning, at least partially, six out of 11.

Two additions to the code had been suggested by former mayor Bill Ross, speaking as a private citizen.

Among amendments approved are provisions-- *requiring lighted signs be turned off after business hours or after 10 p.m., whichever is later;

*permitting signs painted on buildings or structures;

*prohibiting portable signs;

*specifically allowing identification signs for shopping centers; and *allowing lighted signs at entrances to mobile-home parks and planned residential developments.

The city council also sent back to the planning commission for further consideration suggestions regarding temporary directional signs other than for real-estate sales, political signs, auto-dealership signing, and illuminated house numerals.

Local residents Kay Starr and Bob Frankeny spoke in favor, respectively, or directional signs and lighted house numbers. Councilman Henry Wedaa advocated leniency for political signs on account of their educational value; and Chamber of Commerce spokesman Bill OpDyke defended signing at B & B Chevrolet, on Imperial Highway.

Acrimony rose early in the

Candidate's Statements

At the invitation of the Star, all 11 candidates for the City Council in the March 2 election have been invited to submit statements regarding their candidacies. The first of these statements are published in this edition. Others will be pubished upon receipt.

Voters are urged to read the statements and to attend the meetings which have been announced to meet and question the candidates. The publication of these statements are a public service by the Star.

Irwin Fried

Irwin M. Fried, 43, is an attorney. He has a B.S. degree in accounting from New York University and an L.L.B. degree from Brooklyn Law School. His statement:

"During my seven years as a resident, I have consistently supported the concept of developing Yorba Linda as a low density, family oriented community.

"My service in community organizations such as the Yorba Linda City Planning Commission (past chairman), Lynridge Homeowners Association (Vice President) Friends of the Yorba Linda District Library (Vice President), and as Chairman of its Bike-a-thon, are positive indicators of my past service.

"I am also serving as an alternate member at large of the Orange County Airport Land Use Commission - a position which enables me to monitor proposed airport developments in the County.

"The wishes of the residents of Yorba Linda regarding future developments have been clearly expressed in the adopted General Plan, which I support.

"I support a strong Police Department and Parks and Recreation Department. However, since I also believe in the concept of a low cost city, any major added costs should be the subject of a referendum election.

"I worked for 20 years as an accountant and controller, prior to passing the California Bar Examination in 1975; this broad financial background will be a significant asset to the city."

IRWIN FRIED

Herb Warren

We farm approximately 15,000 acres of vegetables and distribute throughout North America.

Kate and I have six children, all born in Yorba Linda. Three are still residing in Yorba Linda. Since 1939, I have been active in farm organizations, having served as Board Member and President of the Yorba Linda Farm Center, Orange County Farm Bureau Young Peoples' Department.

Since 1947, I served as Board Member and President of the Yorba Linda Elementary District, Fullerton

Bob Frankeny

Bob Frankeny is a businessman, married, has four children with three of them of school age. He lives at 6051 Candlelight Lane, Yorba Linda.

Frankeny has been a California resident for 16 years. He retired from the U.S. Navy in 1967 after 22 years service.

Active in community affairs, he is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Yorba Linda Country Riders, is active in development of the Settling Basin and in support of the Library. His statement:

"I feel the growth of our city is inevitable but it must be 'growth with moderation.' Extensive planning must be done to insure the growth is in contrast with our low density, rural atmosphere.

"With this base we must include plans for recreation, security, commercial beautification, economic development and methods of providing funds to support our programs.

"As a member of the City Council I would work hard to insure the criteria of extensive planning and research is carried forward in the development and direction of the city's affairs."

BOB FRANKENY

George Matthews

George Matthews lives at 20092 Fernglen Drive, Yorba Linda. He is employed by the California Youth Authority as a teacher of juvenile delinquents in Whittier. He is married and has three sons and two daughters.

His statement:

My name is George Matthews and I am your candidate for the Yorba Linda City Council. I have found that the most critical problem we are faced with is the need to give Yorba Linda the quality leadership needed to meet the challenge of a growing city.

Settling Basin Meeting Thursday

An important meeting on the future development of the Settling Basin as a community recreation area will be held Thursday, Feb. 6 at the Stuewe residence, 5388 S. Ohio. Invited to the 7:30 p.m. meeting have been representatives of all clubs and organizations in the city.

Development of the Settling Basin, a former water storage area east of Imperial and north of Buena Vista, has been pending for a long time. The city has leased the land from the County Flood Control District for a token fee per year.

The city engineering department has executed a plan for development of the area. Two persons interested in the project, Bob Frankeny and Jerry Gorman, asociated with the Yorba Linda Country Riders, have guaranteed a fee for engineering and the cost of grading the property.

Originally, the basin was earmarked for mainly horse activities but this concept has been expanded to include facilities for various events and to meet the needs of different groups.

The engineering plans indicate a main show ring, bleachers, concessions, announcer's booth, small exercise ring, two picnic areas, an amphitheatre with a fire pit, portable rest rooms and parking area.

It is this tentative plan which was presented to the City Council Monday night and will be discussed at Thursday's meeting.

Frankeny said it is imperative that all groups interested in the area be represented at the meeting so they can become involved in both the development of the basin and the necessary fund raising.

When the plans are finalized they will have to have the approval of the county and the city, the latter because the lease gives the city control over the basin.

If the timetable is met Frankeny estimates that the basin can be used by the end of this year. He stressed that the project will be accomplished at no cost to the city.

PacTel Office Planned

Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company's new Central Office in Yorba Linda will be a functional and eye-pleasing building.

The functional aspect will be assured by the company. The eye-pleasing factors have been mandated by the Planning Commission.

This was assured at last week's meeting when company officials, the architect, the planners and city staff discussed the new building at length during a design review for a conditional use permit.

The building will be constructed on Yorba Linda Blvd., across the street from the intersection of Kellogg Drive.

The commission and the staff sparred with the company representatives over the coloring of the building facing, advocating a color softer than the white proposed.

There were areas of mild disagreement over what type and the number of trees to be planted on the site. However, all aspects of the proposal were in general agreement at the conclusion of the hearing.

Sitting in the audience was Planning Commissioner Howard Eriksen who disqualified himself due to his employment by and his work on the company project.

The company expects the building to be operational by next February.

Capron Chairs P C

In a reorganization of the Planning Commission at the January 14 meeting Ann Capron was elected as chairman and Howard Eriksen as vice chairman. Mrs. Capron succeeded Anton Groot and Eriksen replaced Mrs. Capron. The other commission members are Irwin Fried and William Kittredge.

'New Frontier '76' Edition

The deadline is approaching for submitting material to be included in the Star-Chamber of Commerce "New Frontier '76" Edition to be published on Wednesday, Feb. 25. Organizations who have been invited to publicize their activities are reminded that February 11 is the deadline to have their material in the Star office at 4897 Main Street.
The edition will have total circulation throughout Yorba Linda and will contain articles and photos, along with supportive advertising, to tell the story of Yorba Linda as Orange County's "New Frontier '76 ".

It's Pageant Time!

Miss Yorba Linda, Karen Horn, will compete in the Miss Orange County Pageant on Thursday, Feb. 26 at Plummer Auditorium in Fullerton. The event begins at 7:30 p.m.

The local Chamber of Commerce has entered Karen in the pageant that could lead to her appearance in Santa Cruz for the Miss California title and an opportunity to represent the state in Atlantic City in a bid for the Miss America crown.

Nineteen young women representing cities throughout the county will compete for the Miss Orange County honors in evening gown, swim suit and talent phases of the event.

Karen is a baton twirler who was second runnerup in the 1975 county pageant. She placed first in the talent category. She is a sophomore at Cal State Fullerton, majoring in special education and is interested in remedial reading.

The reigning Miss Yorba Linda is employed by Catalina Sportswear in the design and engineering division.

Tickets for the county pageant are available at the Chamber office for $3 and will be sold at the door on the night of the pageant.

As Karen's local stint comes to a conclusion the Chamber of Commerce is seeking girls for the 1976 Miss Yorba Linda Pageant. This will be held on May 1 probably at the Bernardo Yorba Junior High auditorium.

The winner of this pageant will receive a $500 clothing allowance towards her appearance in the 1977 Miss Orange County Pageant.

Sponsors are also being sought for the entrants and merchants or businesses interested in supporting a candidate may do so for $25. All information and applications may be obtained at the Chamber.

Two Council Forums

Voters who want to meet, question, assess and evaluate the candidates in the March 2 City Council election will have the opportunity to do so at at least two forums in the next few days.

The first will be held tonight (Wednesday) at 8 p.m. in the Multi-Purpose Room of the Yorba Linda Library. The second will be on Tuesday, Feb. 10 at 7:30 p.m. at Fairmont School.

Sponsor of tonight's event is the Yorba Linda Country Riders. The February 10 forum is a joint venture of the Lynridge and Rolling View Homeowners Associations.

Tonight the candidates will be presented to the audience in the order in which their names appear on the ballot. After being introduced by Moderator Jerry Gorman they will have five minutes to speak.

After all have made their presentations written questions from those in attendance will be posed and the candidates will have two minutes to give an answer.

All talks will be timed and a one minute warning will be given when the initial talks reach the four minute mark. Country Riders President Ron McRoberts said the program will conclude at approximately 10 p.m.

Joe Sanguinet, president of the Lynridge Home Owners Association, urged voters to attend the February 10 session. He said each candidate will present his platform and a question and answer period will follow. Fairmont School is located at the intersection of Yorba Linda Blvd. and Fairmont.

CANDIDATE'S NIGHT--Checking over the ground rules for the forum in the Library Auditorium [Wednesday] are Ron McRoberts, president of the sponsoring group, Yorba Linda Country Riders, and Mayor Carolyn Ewing.

GEORGE MATTHEWS

The great challenge now facing those who will be elected to the Yorba Linda City Council is the expansion to the east into the Kraemer and Dominguez annexations which will virtually double the size of Yorba Linda.

I believe this must be carefully planned and it must conform to the present atmosphere of Yorba Linda being the "Land of Gracious Living," and within the density presented in the Master Plan.

During this campaign I have read of, and listened to several over zealous persons who would exploit this development. Included in this development planning, arrangements must be considered for transportation facilities, recreation facilities, expanded city services and neighborhood schools.

My platform is a simple one directed towards the growth of our city, with the needs of our resident and commercial interests considered.

It is my considered opinion that the efforts of a vocal few to restrict this growth, is an open invitation to stagnation and financial disaster for Yorba Linda in the near future.

The city council must have members who will base their decisions on the needs of the community at large rather than small selfish interest groups.

This I believe must be done in cooperation with the Service Groups, the Chamber of Commerce, and the Homeowners Association.

If elected, in addition to the basic policy objectives of translating the attitudes of the citizens into municpal action and providing enlightened leadership, as a city councilman I will include the objectives of increasing the efficiency and economy while always striving to improve the caliber of services to the public.

In the past four years services have had only a slight improvement for some of our citizens and none for others. Facilities and services have been inadequate.

Except for groceries and related items most residents must do their shopping outside Yorba Linda, and obtain professional services outside the city.

Sales taxes are one of our key sources of revenue and we have been letting them be dispersed to our neighboring cities.

An interested citizen is the chief source for motivating and shaping a community. I have found in my WALK AND TALK campaign the interested citizens, and if I am elected to the Yorba Linda City Council, with the help of these citizens, I pledge that I will dedicate all of my efforts towards responding to their needs and desires for the betterment of Yorba Linda. YOUR RIGHTS, YOUR PROPERTY and the FUTURE OF YORBA LINDA will be protected.

I believe that my broad background in administration, planning, supervision and budgeting in fiscal matters eminently qualifies me to be your choice. I have nothing to offer but SERVICE, SOLUTION AND SINCERITY.

Unless you as a voter votes, you fail to respond to your inalienable right to have a voice in determining who will be your presiding officers in the governing of our city. I have faith in the voter system and hope that you will vote MATTHEWS, if not at least vote.

High School District and the North Orange County Community College District.

In addition, I am past President of the Orange County School Trustees Association and served as Executive Committee Chairman of the California School Trustees Association.

I have served the business community as President of the Yorba Linda Citrus Association and as a Board Member of the Yorba Linda Water Company. I served as a founding Director of the Cal-Farm Insurance Co. (A Standard Board Casualty Co.)

Currently, I am Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Council of California Growers and Chairman of the Board of World Farm Foundation. As past President of the Yorba Linda Rotary Club and a present Member of the Methodist Church, Elks, Masonic Lodge and the YMCA, I continue to be involved in local civic activities.

I was one of the original City Councilman and the fifth Mayor of Yorba Linda. As you see, I am a "doer". I believe Yorba Linda is the best place to live in the United States and want to be re-elected to our City Council to help keep it just that!

I want our town to offer opportunity to our young people and to provide an environment allowing our Senior Citizens to afford their retirement years here among familiar friends and surroundings.

I ask for your vote on March 2nd, to return me to the City Council and to your service. We need your support.

A golden sword, awarded by the State of Illinois to General John Cook, a civil war general who served under Ulysses Grant will be part of the exhibit.

Along with other artifacts, the Yorba Linda Library will be giving a map of Yorba Linda historical sights as a bicentennial souvenir.

Girl Scouts Beautify Trail

As their individual gesture of participation in celebrating the National Bicentennial, the Girl Scouts of Yorba Linda planted 115 trees and shrubs along a section of the El Cajon Horse and Bike Trail between Rose Drive and Prospect Avenue in Yorba Linda on Saturday, January 31.

Major theme for Yorba Linda is beautification and recreation.

Several hundred girl scouts of all levels of scouting participated. Mini-scouts, Brownies, Juniors, Cadettes and Senior scouts purchased their trees at cost from Forest Nursery.

They used money earned from their individual troop projects, calendar sales and troop dues to buy the trees.

Trees and shrubs such as eucalyptus, California pepper, acacia, oleander, myoporum laetum and pine were selected by the girls from a landscape plan of the area drawn up by Greg Arakelian and Jeff Russell of Forest Nursery, 18150 Imperial Hwy., Yorba Linda, who donated their time and talents to this project.

Rites For Mrs. Friend

Services were held last week for Mrs. Wanda Jean Friend of Yorba Linda. The 46 year old Mrs. Friend died at her home, 17661 Mariposa.

Mrs. Friend was born in Alden, Kansas. She had been active in the Future Farmers of America, Placentia Chapter, was a member of the Placentia Agriculture Boosters and an honorary chapter farmer.

Her survivors include her husband, William; one daughter, Joanne of Yorba Linda; her mother, Josephine Murphy of Placentia; two brothers, Woody Murphy of Placentia and Dick Murphy of Huntington Beach.

Services were held at McAulay and Wallace Chapel, Fullerton, with the Rev. Bob Norvell of Rose Drive Baptist Church, Yorba Linda officiating. Interment was at Loma Vista Memorial Park, Fullerton.

Boundary Changes

Solutions to overcrowding in several schools in the Placentia Unified School District will be discussed by the district's Educational Facilities Planning Committee (EFPC) at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 5, in the board room, 1301 E. Orangethorpe Ave.

Several alternatives to the overcrowding problems in the northwest elementary schools and Bernardo Yorba Junior High and Esperanza High schools in the eastern part of the district will be looked at by the committee during discussion, according to Ruth Leonard, chairperson.

The EFPC is a committee of community residents who study district population and make recommendations to the board of education on how to house students in the rapidly growing Placentia district. Final decisions are made by trustees.

Among the school areas which have been suggested for attendance boundary changes to equalize enrollments in district schools are Sierra Vista and Brookhaven elementary schools and the Van Buren area. Other alternatives may include busing, use of portable buildings and trailers and double sessions.

The 17,000-student district has averaged growth of 1,000 students each year for the past decade, and recent increased activity in the building industry in the area is adding to the school population "even faster than we anticipated," explained Patrick Bowman, the district's director of planning and construction.

Future plans call for building six new elementary schools, a junior high and a senior high to accommodate growth in the next six years, he said.

Construction is scheduled to begin on the John O. Tynes Elementary and Orthopedically Handicapped School near the Placentia Civic Center next summer. The next planned school is an elementary school located south of La Palma Avenue in the eastern portion of the district.

The public is invited to attend the EFPC meeting to listen to discussion.

discussion in response to OpDyke's observation that the Chamber did not receive notice of the hearing until 11 a.m. Friday. "I resent (your) implication that notice was deliberately withheld," protested Wedaa, who claimed that he did not receive notice until 6 that evening.

OpDyke rejoined that he had made no implication, but only a statement of fact.

The motion for adoption was made by Councilman Dale Chaput and seconded by Wedaa. Mayor Carolyn P. Ewing and Councilman Whit Cromwell then joined Chaput and Wedaa in voting for the proposed ordinance.

Councilman Rudolph Castro was absent.

If the city council approves the ordinance on second reading at its next meeting, the amendments will be enacted into law.

In other action, the council-- *approved a first progress payment of $16,000 to Baxter-Griffin Electrical Contractors for traffic lights at the intersections of Yorba Linda and Eureka, Yorba Linda and Fairmont, and Lakeview and Timberline (total cost of the signals will be $66,000, according to City Engineer Roy Stephenson);

*approved a contract with R.F. Dickson Co., Inc. for street-sweeping services for the year 1976 at a cost-per-mile rate of $5.13 (Stephenson declared that an increase of 38 cents over last year's rate was justified by increased costs to the company); and *passed on first reading an ordinance setting a 30-mile-per-hour speed limit for Arroyo Canyon Drive between Kellogg Drive and Foxfield Lane.

Rotary Club

Dr. Jack Potter, past president of Garden Grove Rotary and District Governor nominee, will be the speaker at the Friday luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club at the Yorba Linda Country Club. He will talk on plans for the 1976-77 Rotary year.

BENNINGTON FLAG, one of the nation's earliest, is flying daily on the flag pole at Rose Drive School in Yorba Linda. The stars denote the 13 original colonies and the number the year that independence was achieved.

Early Flag Flies Over Rose Drive

The Bennington flag is flying proudly over Rose Drive School. Students and faculty paid tribute to the raising of the nation's earliest known flag on Monday, December 15.

Color guards from Rose Drive's scout troops and the Rose Drive Chorus led nearly 500 students in a salute to the nation's heritage. In a special song, Bobbi Felando sang the words inscribed on the Statue of Liberty.

The Bennington flag has 13 stars and 13 stripes and flew over the Battle of Bennington in August 1777.

The original flag is still preserved in the museum at Bennington, Vermont.

The Bennington flag has unexpected differences from our current flag. The first flag law did not indicate exact details of colors, proportions or star arrangement. Since all flags were made by hand, each flag was more or less different from all others.

No one knows why the figure "76" was added in the canton. While the stars on the Bennington flag have seven points, other Revolutionary flags' stars vary from four to eight points.

The Bennington flag over Rose Drive is one of a series of careful reproductions of flags of the Revolutionary War period made by the Dettra Flag Company. Twelve different designs are available in several sizes.

Authentication of the flag designs and history have been undertaken by the Flag Research Center, 3 Edgehill Road, Winchester, Mass. 01890.

The Center publishes the quarterly Flag Bulletin and has published many books, including "The Flag Book of the United States".

Realtor Council

Mary Marx, Yorba Linda Century 21 Realtor Associate, received her certificate of completion upon graduation from the class "The Art of Real Estate Counseling", recently given in Reno, Nevada.

Counseling the client rather than merely selling him property assures a deeper insight into the client's needs and gives an excellent picture to the counselor of what will solve the client's problem or meet the client's objective.

VALENTINE PRINCESS--of Upsilon Omicron is Betty Bonfrisco of Yorba Linda.

HORSE TALES

by Joan Johnson

Here is the fourth chapter in the series of articles on Horsemanship written by Charis Nagel.

USE OF THE AIDS: Your hands control the forehand of your horse directly by use of the reins. In advanced riding, your actions on the reins will have an indirect influence on the hindquarters.

Good hands are steady, light, soft and firm in their actions. They can be this way only if your body is in balance and in rhythm with your horse.

As we discuss reining and rein cues, remember the importance of holding your arms, elbows, wrists, hands and fingers in a relaxed flexible manner.

Be sure to hold your reins with a small amount of slack that will relieve pressure on the bit while allowing you to keep a light contact with the horse's mouth. The degree of contact should be just enough to keep your horse working up into the bit.

Learn to use a flexing motion as you signal or cue with your reins (give and take action). This can be done by a simple opening and closing of your fingers if you have the correct degree of contact with your horse's mouth.

It is especially important to learn to use two hands on the reins when schooling or polishing the performance of your horse.

The proper use of two hands is the mark of a horseman, who uses them to guide and set the horse until the horse has learned to respond to cues and to handle single hand on the reins.

Remember, though, at any time outside the show ring when you feel your horse isn't handling as smoothly as you desire, it is wise to use two hands until your horse is corrected.

Learn what it means to finger the reins and how your horse will soon respond to cues given by light fingering. This is not cheating.

It is helping your horse learn to react to your cues in a "feather-light" manner.

If you plan to show your horse, you should study the rules on how you may hold your reins and learn to use the one which allows you to have the softest hands on your horse's mouth.

Wrestler's Day

A wrestler's day begins early in the week with calisthentics, new moves worked over and over, wrestling with team mates to try new moves and then, the big day.

Up at 6 a.m., rub the sleep out of your eyes, wait for Dad to get a cup of coffee, cram your gear into your bag and head for the wrestling site. When you get there you fill out a silly form that you have done already a bunch of times, pay your buck and weigh in.

Sure is a long line. Oh boy, I made weight and now we can go eat. Seems like a year since my last meal. Back at the gym we wait for our bout to be called. Sure hope I can remember all the stuff Mr. Stolo has taught me.

Man, what a tough match, but my "double leg" got him. Guess the coach knows his business when he says that tough workouts sure do help. Finally! It's awards time and the long day is over. I'll sure be glad when next week comes.

Oh yeah, I forgot to say thanks to some neat guys for showing me all the things they know about "rasslin"; Tim Walstrom, Mike Groff, Scott Morris and Gary Fredrickson.

If any of you guys want to learn how to wrestle, we have a heck of a staff just waiting to teach you. Just contact the North Orange County Y.M.C.A. and I'll see you at practice, Tuesdays and Thursdays, El Dorado High, 7-8:30 p.m.

Y Youth Hoop Play Launched

The new YMCA Youth Basketball Association got underway Thursday night when 230 boys and girls and parents participated in a Yorba Linda Tip-off meeting.

Tommy John, the Dodger pitcher, and Yorba Linda resident, spoke about fair-play in sports, and each player received an NBA-YMCA manual on basic basketball skills and sportmanship.

The North Orange County YMCA league, officially called YBA, is made up of 11 Yorba Linda teams and Fullerton teams. It is broken up into three leagues of 6 teams each;

The YBA is a national experiment in youth sports. There are no league champions, league standings, or national championships. While game scores are kept, skill development, sportmanship and fun are stressed above championships.

There are no try-outs and everyone plays equally. Year end awards are presented for participation, skill improvement and fair play.

Slogans such as "respect your opponent, because without him there is no game" and "playing basketball is fun; if it isn't, then you aren't playing" are used.

The Yorba Linda area has further extended this experiment by involving parent, players, teachers and YMCA staff in the league.

The coordinating committee of teachers, Todd Murphy and Bob Perkins and parents Nick Cannis have evolved a unique league. Eight of the 11 Yorba Linda teams are coached by a teacher after school during the week and by parents on the weekends.

All Yorba Linda teams, except the Junior High team, are now full and registrations for these are closed. Sign-ups for the Junior High team are still being taken at the Yorba Linda YMCA, 18452 Yorba Linda Blvd, between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. Monday through Friday. Phone number is 993-5111.
